

Crawford County Avalanche

SIXTY-NINTH YEAR NUMBER 41 GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1946 8 PAGES—Price 5c

Little Over Half Re-Registered

According to figures tabulated by Republican County Chairman Ray Clement and Mrs. Helen Clippert, area field representative of the Republican State Women's Committee in a visit last Saturday to all of Crawford County's township clerks slightly over one-half of the available voters have re-registered.

This column has presented both sides of the issue pertaining to a revision of one-third of the state sales tax revenue to local governments, plus freezing of a state aid formula into the state constitution that would remove public school appropriations from the legislature.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that public school teachers, caught in the postwar inflation, are badly underpaid and are in need of better salaries. Kim Sigler and Murray D. Van Wagoner will not dispute this fact.

It is also becoming more and more apparent that something has got to give way if Michigan voters authorize a $270,000,000 bonus for Michigan veterans and also authorize a bumper state aid formula for schools and cities. How both of these proposals can be put into effect without badly disrupting state services, which for the most part involve people in home-town communities, has been a subject of considerable concern with administration officials at Lansing.

Democratic nominee Van Wagoner has recently to the likelihood of the two proposals being approved by the voters on November 5. This likelihood, he warns, increases the need of Michigan having an experienced state administrator in the governor's chair who knows how to handle the new problem.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, who is a nominee for the same office on the G.O.P. ticket, has sharpened his pencils recently and arrived at an estimate that the $270,000,000 veterans' bonus would require the additional expenditure from the state general fund of approximately $17,500,000 a year for many years to come. This amount, significantly enough, is a little more than the surplus accrued in the general fund during the 1945-46 fiscal year after all disbursements had been made.

Recent figures from the office of John D. Morrison, State Auditor General, indicate a year's surplus of approximately $16,300,000. Had the veterans' bonus been in effect during the past year there would have been no surplus at all.

It is generally conceded that the veterans' bonus (Ballot Proposal No. 3) has a much better chance of being approved by the voters than the sales tax diversion amendment (Ballot Proposal No. 2).

We have noted little if any attack on the bonus proposal. We have noted considerable controversy—pro and con—about the proposed school aid and city amendment to secure state money.

Therefore, when the latter issue is being considered on its merits it seems logical to take for granted that the bonus will be approved. Personally, we believe that such is the case.

If such is done, you arrive automatically at a point where the much talked about surplus becomes non-existent, as the above reasons indicate. Hence, the parent store sales are currently running about 50 percent over the same period one year ago—an astonishing fact, but nevertheless quite true. How much longer the postwar inflation boom will continue is anybody's guess, although government economists have been warning in consistent union that a readjustment or recession is due sometime in 1947 and that we should get ready to see supply and demand move in normal balance.

It was actually not so long ago—during the Frank Murphy administration in fact—when the auditor general's office was buying red ink by the gallon. A treasury deficit grew into the millions. Welfare demands were high, and people could not be left to starve. A deficiency was created by the welfare load, and Republican politicians began to make political capital of the fact that the Democrats were running the state into debt and that it was high time the voters turned to Republicans to do something about it. Sure, it's right on the record.

While state payrolls have increased steadily administration after administration, the record also shows unmistakably that state aid to local governments has gone up steadily. It is not easy to paint the other fellow's kettle black. For example:

State payments returned to and benefiting local governments grew from $89,000,000 in 1937 to $178,000,000 in 1946—a ten-year period. The total of operating expenditures and reserves (for all purposes) climbed from $160,000,000 to $281,000,000. Read this paragraph again. Who's taking advantage of whom?

Tourist Council Man, Party Visit Grayling

Jack Redhead, former Grayling resident and now assistant to the administrative secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, stopped in Grayling Tuesday afternoon with a party of three young ladies who operate the information booths for the State of Michigan at Detroit and Cleveland.

The party started out on October 2 in southeastern Michigan and then toured eastern and central Michigan under the auspices of the Eastern Michigan Tourist Council. They were on their way to the Upper Peninsula Tuesday, to first attend the testimonial dinner for George Bishop, tourist secretary for that region for many years at Rapid River and then to Marquette for the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

They will tour western Michigan on their return from across the straits. In all about three weeks will be taken up in traveling all over Michigan. The three young ladies are Mrs. Jean Wright Coatsman, in charge of the Cleveland office, Miss Audrey Provost, in charge of the Detroit office and Miss Margaret Carroll, also of the Detroit office.

"The purpose of the trip," said Mr. Redhead, "is to acquaint these information office employees with just what they are selling to the public. We want them to know Michigan, all of Michigan, in order that they may intelligently give people information. We want to spend the people's money wisely in furthering our great tourist business and we wish to get our money's worth. This trip is an investment that we feel will pay real dividends."

Long Shot Bags First Deer

A 73-yard bow-and-arrow heart shot made within a mile and a half of Swan Creek wildlife experiment station headquarters at 5 p.m. of the day the season opened accounted for the first deer reported killed in Michigan's 1946 season.

The archer was Arnold Haugen, extension specialist in farm-gage management at Michigan State University. His long shot was so well placed the deer ran only 70 yards before dropping dead. Haugen is a director of the National Field Archery association and a governor of Michigan Bowmen Hunters. He got his deer with bow and arrow last year too.

Frederick W. Stuewer, Swan Creek wildlife station manager, reported 100 archers in the Allegheny woods on opening day, with 10 tent and trailer camps pitched on one camp ground. Deer were moving about and many reported seeing them. A color photograph of a national weekly was on hand to cover the opening.

Frederic Couple Observe 42nd Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Horton were pleasantly surprised by friends and children Sunday who dropped in to help celebrate their 42nd wedding anniversary. A late dinner was served to 30 guests. Pink and white gladiolus and a large floral arrangement centered the table. Besides family and children there were 11 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Rose Woolf of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Sawtell of Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. Horton were married at Frederic parsonage and have made Frederic their home. Many lovely gifts were received by the couple.

State Accounts for Taxes Spent

On page 4 of the Avalanche today appears an unusual advertisement. Headed "An Accounting to Taxpayers," the paid message is from the State of Michigan through John D. Morrison, state auditor general. It is a handy report to Michigan taxpayers of revenues received and expenditures made by the State of Michigan during the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1946.

Mr. Morrison, who incidentally is not running for re-election, those newspapers as the most effective and economical way to inform taxpayers about the state's financial operations and the current surplus.

The official report shows total revenues of $204,118,039.35 and total expenditures of $286,499,092.39, leaving a year's surplus of $17,618,946.97. As the state began the year with a surplus of $5,219,753.88, the unrestricted surplus in the treasury on June 30 that was available for legislative appropriation was $21,532,356.01.

The above surplus does not include funds restricted by the legislature for future definite needs, such as the veterans' fund and others, and hence not available for legislative appropriation.

Clement Named Probate Judge

Ray Clement of Grayling was appointed to the office of Probate Judge by Governor Harry E. Kelly last week. Clement succeeds Judge Carl W. Peterson, who resigned effective October 1 to enter private business in Gaylord.

Clement was a former clerk of the Records Court in Detroit and former Assistant of the Republican County Committee and was a candidate for county clerk in the primary election this year.

The appointment by the Governor places Clement in office until the Spring election in 1947 at which time he will be required to run for the unexpired portion of the term which expires on January 1, 1948.

Fire Hits Spike's Tuesday Evening

A small but damaging blaze hit Spike's Keg on Tuesday evening, the fire was first noticed by a patron and himself who were playing table tennis. They noticed smoke in the air and the owner, on investigating, found a small store room at the rear of the building in flames. The local fire fighters responded quickly to the alarm and soon had the blaze under control. Smoke, however, filled the statewide-known bar and billowed from open windows and roof ventilators.

Although Spike has not as yet been able to ascertain the loss in dollars and cents it was believed it would not be too high. The loss of extra glassware and paper products bought over a year in anticipation for deer hunting season will be a loss. Spike said a splattering of flame-choking chemicals also ruined a suit of clothes which the owner was wearing.

Winter Sports Budget Approved

A tentative $7,000 budget was set for the East Michigan Winter Sports council at a meeting held at the Wenonah Hotel in Bay City Monday noon.

The five-man budget and advertising board also discussed plans for the promotion and advertising of this season's sports on ice and snow. A photo and window display contests were tentatively approved.

The budget will be presented to the East Michigan Winter Sports council at their next meeting which is scheduled for Alpena on October 30.

Present at the meeting were Richard K. Fletcher Jr., president of the Council from Bay City, Frank Davis, council treasurer and EMTA secretary-manager of Bay City, Burrows Morley, advertising committee chairman of Saginaw, Glenn MacDonald and Hugh Giesel, both of Bay City.

Pediatric Clinic Here Tuesday, October 15

Traffic Claims Seventh Life in Crawford County This Year

Collision Occurs on Curve Five Miles North of Roscommon

Traffic claimed the seventh life during this year in Crawford County early Friday when Ralph L. Foote of Bay City, who was injured in a 25-27 crash early Thursday morning, succumbed at Mercy Hospital of injuries sustained in the head-on collision.

The car driven by Foote, who was alone, was headed south and was in collision with a northbound vehicle driven by Joseph Zakalyk, 35, of Frenchtown, New Jersey. The crash occurred on the south approach to the highway curve 5 miles north of Roscommon known as "Dead Man's Curve".

Injured besides Foote in the smashup was Mrs. Josephine Krachowski of Stockton, New Jersey, who was riding in the car driven by Zakalyk along with her two sons, Walter, 11, and Stanley, 13, who were the boys of Zakalyk were injured.

Zakalyk told Sheriff John A. Paendick who investigated the crash that he first saw the Foote car rounding the curve on the wrong side of the road. Zakalyk, who was traveling north said he attempted to veer across the highway to avoid a collision but the cars met head-on. Tire marks on the pavement substantiated his story, the sheriff said.

Zakalyk told the Sheriff that he was driving Mrs. Krachowski to Grand Marais where she planned to be married in the next few days to an Upper Peninsula man. Mrs. Krachowski was reported in "serious" condition by hospital attendants who said she was suffering from possible internal injuries, shock and lacerations about the head and body.

The first traffic death of the year in this county occurred on

Dynamite Caps Injure 3 Boys

Three Roscommon boys, all sons of medical men, were in serious condition in Mercy Hospital here as the result of injuries received in a dynamite cap explosion.

Marvin Kelsey, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. Max Kelsey suffered the most serious injuries while Donald, 11, and Laurence, 9, sons of Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Ballard were also badly injured.

State Police from the Houghton Lake post who investigated the explosion, said that the three Roscommon boys had secured the explosive caps from the storage pit of the county highway department. After wiring several caps together, the explosion occurred when Donald held a lighted match to the wire. Dr. Ballard is well known in Grayling, having filled in as the local dentist while Dr. J. F. Cook was in the armed forces.

Local Man Elected to Lieutenant-Governorship

Charles E. Moore, Crawford County prosecuting attorney was officially elected to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Kiwanis district number 8 at the Kiwanis State Convention held in Grand Rapids last week.

The Grayling club was represented at the convention by the newly elected Lieut.-Governor, Secretary Emil Giegling and past president Dr. Stanley A. Stealy. The retiring Lieut.-Governor of District 8, Probate Judge Max Hamlin of Manistee was elected as Governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International. He defeated James J. O'Kane of Ann Arbor, Lieut.-Governor of the sixth district.

The eighth district, which Lieut. Governor Moore will administer after taking over office on the first of the year, is comprised of six clubs located in Manistee, Cadillac, Traverse City, Houghton Lake, Gaylord and Grayling.

Christine Knasche Passes On

Final rites were read by Rev. R. C. Puffer for Christine Knasche at the Sorenson Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. on Monday. Burial was in the Hillside Cemetery in Roscommon. Mrs. Knasche passed away Friday, October 4.

The deceased, wife of Bruno Knasche was born in Bohemia Jan. 1, 1885. The couple have resided in Lyons Manor Twp. for 37 years.

Charlevoix Runs Wild Against Wave, 33-0

The Grayling Green Wave suffered its worst defeat since they started football in 1939 at the hands of the Charlevoix Buccaneers here last Friday as the league leaders rolled up a 33 to 0 score.

The Charlevoix squad was comprised of all 3 and 4 year men and was a big, fast team. Martin, Buccaneer tailback ran wild and 6 foot 4 inch Bob Carey teamed with his halfback brother, Bill to complete passes all over the field. The Charlevoix team continued its record of not being scored on since 1944.

Grayling's offense was not as bad as their defense and at two points definitely threatened to score. Coach Willard Cornell's charges gambled on a new defensive setup to counteract the Charlevoix' sweeps and passes. The new system seemed to bog the local eleven down and Coach Cornell said after the game that he believed that if they had stuck to their orthodox defense plan they would have held the Buccaneers to a closer contest. Grayling's passing was good but their pass defense proved a setup for the invaders. On the famous Charlevoix sweeps they threw 3 to 4 men out in front of the ball carrier. This interference was drawn from the line but the Wave linemen could not seem to take advantage of it.

Grinstead and Snook stood out on defensive play making tackle after tackle. The Wave is in for a series of hard fundamental drills, this to perfect their tackling, blocking and charging.

The big Charlevoix team ran up 214 yards on rushing to Grayling's 100. They showed a net gain of 309 while the Wave netted but 77. They clicked for 16 first downs to Grayling's 5. Charlevoix completed 4 passes out of 11 while the other 7 were incomplete for a yardage gain of 82, while Grayling completed 2 out of 5 for 23 yards but three passes were intercepted. Grayling averaged 33 yards on their punts while Charlevoix fumbled 27. Charlevoix fumbled 4 times, Grayling only 3. The Wave also recovered 3 of the Buccaneers' fumbles. Up to the end of the third quarter, Grayling had allowed the visitors but 13 points but the intercepted a Grayling pass and soon had their third touchdown.

Other scores in the Northern 'C' League were: Boyne City 24, Gaylord 0; East Jordan 6, Harbor Springs 0; Manistee 21, Pellston 0.

Grayling faces a weighty team at Gaylord this week who are lacking in experience as they only commenced football last year. The Gaylord team has yet to win a game this year, having dropped games to Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix. They haven't scored yet this year.

Chamber Elects New Directors

Ballots were mailed to members of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce last weekend to vote on eight new directors of the organization for the coming year. All ballots were to be voted and turned in to Secretary Jerome Kessler by tonight.

Installation of the new directors and election of officers for the coming year is planned for tomorrow evening, according to President Arthur Clough who also pointed out that but two present directors are on this year's slate of nominees. President Clough also said that the purpose of all of the present members but two stepping aside was to bring the younger and newer members of the organization into the directorship. It was decided that at least two present members should be included on the list of nominees in order to give continuity to the Chamber's various programs.

Those listed on the ballot include Clyde Thompson of the Thompson's Mens Store, C. Eugene Hayes of the Hayes Upholstery Shop, Wesley Kumpula, High School principal, John H. Peterson of the Grayling Laundry, Floyd A. Davis of Davis Jewelry, Harley Russell of Tiny's Beauty Shop, Walter Dudewicz of Duke's Hotel, Robert W. Strong of the Avonlea, William Martin of Martin's Hi-Speed Service, Leslie Hunter of Hunter's AuSable Dairy, Wesley LaGrove of Burrows' Market, Carl Easton of the Cottage Inn, Fred C. Welsh Jr. of the Welsh Motor Sales, Dan C. Babbitt, downtown resort owner and Rolla Felling of the Felling Distributing company.

May 7 when Mrs. Virginia Dies, 30, of Waters was declared dead upon admittance to Mercy Hospital after she was injured when a car driven by Robert Novack of Horseshoe Lake in which she was riding left the highway 5 miles north of Grayling. On August 18, three were killed outright and a fourth fatally injured in a head-on crash on a hilltop 3 miles south of Grayling. Those who met immediate death in the collision were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barnwell of Hadonsville, New Jersey and Floyd Wilson of Collingswood, New Jersey. Mrs. Wilson succumbed a few days later at Mercy Hospital from injuries received in the terrible highway tragedy. The sixth death arose from a highway mishap just south of the city when Herbert J. Prout of Miami, Florida lost control of his car while attempting to pass another northbound vehicle. His car somersaulted into the ditch breaking two vertebrae in Prout's spine. After a short stay at Mercy Hospital here he was transferred to the University Hospital at Ann Arbor where he succumbed to the injuries.

Over 75 Attend Kiwanis Dinner

Over 75 Kiwanians, their wives and guests attended a dinner meeting held at the Conservation Department's training school at Higgins Lake Tuesday evening.

After enjoying a fine chicken dinner, the guests were introduced and a short talk was given by Lieut.-Governor-elect Charles E. Moore. Three members of the club were presented with some items much to the enjoyment of the gathering.

Following the short dinner table program, the group moved to the school auditorium where a National Forest picture in technicolor entitled, "Realm of the Wild" was shown. The picture, a beautiful but forceful thought provoker, was taken in the National Forests of the United States and told the story of America's wildlife in these areas.

The struggle for existence, the limitation because of food, checks of nature in the way of predators and natural camouflage were screened most convincingly. Several parts of the hour-long film were most interesting, reaching the climax with battles between big horn rams of the Rockies during mating season. Several scenes must have taken months of stalking before they were captured on film.

Both before dinner and after the wildlife film, cards and pool were enjoyed in the lounge room of the main building.

Final Rites for Bertha P. Henderson

Funeral services were held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Cadillac Funeral Home on Wednesday for Bertha P. Henderson who passed away Sunday. The deceased suffered a heart attack and died shortly after admittance to Mercy Hospital. Burial was in Cadillac.

Mrs. Henderson was born September 6, 1901 in Wolverine, Mich. She with her husband moved here from Cadillac and resided 5 miles south of Grayling for a short time.

Have YOU Registered?

As you should know by this time if you read the papers or listen to the radio, next Wednesday, October 16 is the final day that you can re-register to vote in the General Election to be held on November 5. This new law effects each and every voter in every city, village and township that is not already on a permanent registration system.

Voters in Grayling will not have to re-register as forward-looking city officials instituted the permanent system in the city some years ago. However, every other voter in Crawford County MUST re-register before next Wednesday if they are to vote for United States Senator, Congressmen, Governor and other state officials, county officers and on the amendments to the state constitution.

This means you in Frederic, Maple Forest, Lovells, South Branch, Beaver Creek and Grayling townships. Get to your township clerk today before you forget it. Be able to do your duty on November 5.

Do you realize that men have fought, bled and died for over 2,000 years to free themselves of oppression? They fought for the right to have something to say about the way they were governed. You are not asked to fight—just to re-register—in order that you may take advantage of your blessed freedom.

If the screams of the tortured and wounded, who had the insolence during the past 2,000 years to speak for freedom, were sounding in your ear you would understand the true meaning of our American system of government. Sure, they have elections in other lands, but, for all the progress in other parts of the world they still do not hold our kind of legal selection.

Be sure to register today in order that you can add your voice to the selections on November 5.—R.W.S.

HERE'S TO HEALTH*HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

To the fast pace of which many Americans speed through life can be attributed their tendency to high blood pressure.

Trying to crowd numerous activities into one day, straining their physical strength to the limit, carrying their business to bed with them where they continue to worry over the problems of the day instead of resting, men and women in this age of rush run their blood pressure up—and then add it to their list of worries.

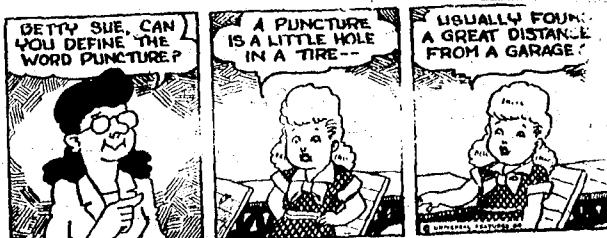

High blood pressure indicates that the heart and arteries are under abnormal tension. It is not a disease in itself but should be taken as a warning and its cause investigated. The danger of high blood pressure is that the heart will be injured if the cause of the rise in blood pressure is not discovered in time and any possible steps taken to correct the condition.

There are various things which may be the cause of high blood pressure. Therefore, there is no one remedy which can be prescribed for the condition. The only safe thing to do is to consult a doctor and follow his advice. Taking the blood pressure is part of any complete physical examination. If the blood pressure is normal, it is a healthy sign. If it is low, it indicates low vitality but not necessarily that anything is seriously wrong. It has been said that no one ever died from low blood pressure, but that the person with low blood pressure misses a lot of fun in life. He has little energy and pep and tires easily. The physicians may suggest exercise to improve the circulation of the blood.

High blood pressure indicates any one of a number of things. It may be caused by a disease of the kidney. Very often high blood pressure is due solely to the high-tension life which modern Americans live. The strain and excitement of the lives places an extra strain on the heart, causing the blood pressure to rise. When the blood pressure is high, a doctor should be consulted and his advice followed.

Republican Nominee Sigler has declared repeatedly that legislators should get more money; that legislators, as well as school teachers, are "underpaid." Democratic nominee Van Wagoner has his own opinion on the matter. He says that financing, one of them being for veteran homes at low interest rate and at a nominal down payment of around $500.00 each.

With the veterans' bonus added to the state expenditures, it seems unlikely that the state government will reduce its spending in the next administration. In fact, the chances are that new taxes will be imposed—especially if the sales tax amendment is added to the bonus as additional drains on public funds.

The above facts do not take into consideration other interesting factors. The University of Michigan and Michigan State College, by legislative authorization, have already run up overdrafts (deficiencies, if you please) of around $6,400,000 to cover cost of veteran educational demands. The state welfare department has a deficiency at present of around $3,500,000, due to higher living costs. On top of this there are other operating deficiencies in sight.

The much talked about surplus at Lansing is largely an illusion, if prudent citizens take into consideration an impending veterans' bonus and existing deficiencies in state funds. The discouraging thing about the entire problem is the indifference of many people. Lansing has too much money", they say. "Here's a chance to get some of it back home!" We wonder.

IF THE gowns worn by Rita Hayworth in "Gilda" dazzle you, wait till you see what Jeon Louis whips up for her when he returns from Paris. Before he went to Hollywood he was a well-known designer—devoting his talents to creating costumes for such dressy ladies as the duchess of Windsor and Gertrude Lawrence (who'd look smart in a gingham apron). He plans to stay in Paris a month, seeing his family and inspecting the new fashions, but he finished several chores at Columbia before he left—costumes for Rita for the technicolor

Old songs never die, if they're good ones. Several years ago Samuel Goldwyn brought renewed popularity to Irving Berlin's "Always" by making it the musical theme of "The Bride of the Yankees." Now he's bringing back "Among My Souvenirs" as the theme song of "The Best Years of Our Lives," starring Frederic March and Myrna Loy. Well, just see what "Casablanca" did for "As Time Goes By."

Outstanding Hoosiers in the entertainment world, such as Herb Shriner, Red Skelton, Hoagy Carmichael, Singin' Sam and Ole Olsen have been invited by Governor Gates of Indiana to fly out for the opening of the Hoosier State fair on August 31.

State Not Named for Animal

Michigan became the "Wolverine State" because of its prosperous trading centers, not because wolverines were especially numerous in the state, a University of Michigan zoologist declares.

Dr. William H. Burt, associate professor of zoology and curator of mammals in the University's Museum of Zoology, is the author of "The Mammals of Michigan," just released by the University of Michigan Press.

Detroit and other Michigan cities were shipping centers for the fur trade," Dr. Burt explains, and Michigan became known as the Wolverine State because of the great number of wolverine skins shipped through the state. Actually most of the skins came from outside Michigan.

A total of 64 different species of mammals are now or have been in the past native to Michigan, Dr. Burt relates, but the commercial and agricultural practices of the state have created many changes in the nature and distribution of wildlife.

"Two main groups of mammals live in Michigan," the zoologist explains. "In the Upper Peninsula and in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula, above the edge of the jack pine plains, are the forest, bog and swamp animals. These include moles, shrews, weasels, lemmings, black bear, otter, red fox, chipmunks, porcupines and snowshoe rabbits."

KING OF THE COURT... Jack Kramer, Montebello, Calif., who defeated Tom Brown, San Francisco, to gain the national men's singles tennis championship at Forest Hills, N. Y.

"Below the pines and in a strip along Green Bay live the second group," he continues. "In this area are skunk, badger, ground squirrel, prairie deer mouse, opossum, raccoon, jumping mice, muskrat and the cottontail rabbit."

Cutting of the forests and drainage of swamps as well as clearing and plowing of farm land have wrought great changes in Michigan's animal population, Dr. Burt says.

In the early days of the state, the wolverine, marten, fisher, cougar, caribou, bison and elk were present, but all of these are now gone, he reports. The timber wolf, lynx and moose are restricted to a few areas in the northern part of the state, as are the black bear, river otter, beaver and bobcat.

Man's idea of which animals are useful and which are harmful depends principally upon his vocation, the zoologist points out.

"The beaver may be vigorously defended by the trapper and the recreationalist, and it may be condemned with equal vigor by the fisherman and the forester, he illustrated. "The coyote is defended by the grain farmer, who sees the possibility of crop destruction by the rodents upon which the coyote preys, but it is difficult to convince a sheep raiser that coyotes should be preserved."

Only two animals have been condemned as predators by Michigan, the coyote and the wolf, each of which brings a bounty to hunters. The coyote is increasing despite the bounty system, Dr. Burt declares.

Fly 100,000 Pens to India

Chicago — World's record air shipment of $1,000,000 worth of ball pens left La Guardia Field yesterday in a specially chartered British Overseas Airways liner for Karachi, India.

Franklin Lamb, president of the Reynolds Pen Company, who made the announcement, said that this 100,000 pen cargo was one of the largest distributing groups in the Middle East.

"Shipping huge quantities of pens to foreign markets at a time when domestic demand is so overwhelming may sound queer, but in order to maintain world wide leadership in the ball pen business, it is necessary to supply the Christmas demands abroad as well as at home," Lamb said.

The order will be an all-air shipment, a Flying Tigers cargo plane having been chartered from Chicago to New York, where transfer will be made at La Guardia Field to the British carrier.

Are Returning Veterans "Different"?

During the war you heard a lot about how hard it was going to be for returning veterans to get adjusted to civilian life... how they'd be "different."

Well, plenty of them have returned to our town, and a finer, steadier bunch you couldn't ask for. Most of them are back at the same jobs... going with the same nice home-town girls (getting married, some of them, and setting up families)... renewing the same old friendships.

Even their amusements are the same. Nothing more exciting than fishing Seward's creek or pitching horseshoes... enjoying an outdoor barbecue with friendly wholesome beer and pleasant talk.

If they've changed at all it's in the direction of maturity and tolerance... tolerance for everything except dictators, and those who would destroy our democratic principles of live and let live. And from where I sit, that's another reason to be proud of them.

STORIES OF HOW NAMES HELPED MAKE AMERICA GREAT

THE WOOL TRADE IS MENTIONED IN THE BIBLE, BILLY.

THE ROMAN ARMY SET UP THE FIRST WOOLLEN MILL IN GREAT BRITAIN IN 43 A.D.

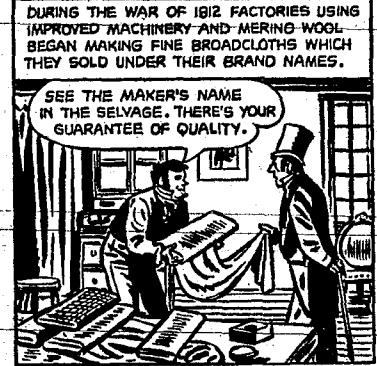

SPANISH COLONISTS BROUGHT SHEEP AND WOOL MANUFACTURE TO MEXICO IN 1560. SOON THE INDIANS HAD THEIR OWN FLOCKS AND WOVE BLANKETS OF WOOL.

EARLY ENGLISH, DUTCH, FRENCH AND FRENCH COLONISTS IN AMERICA BROUGHT SHEEP WITH THEM. IN 1637 VIRGINIA PAID A BOUNTY FOR HOME-WOVEN WOOLLEN CLOTH.

UNTIL 1790 ALL AMERICAN WOOL WAS CLEANED, CARDED, SPUN AND WOVEN AS HOUSEHOLD CHORES. THEN WOOLLEN MILLS WITH POWER-DRIVEN MACHINERY APPEARED, FIRST IN NEW ENGLAND.

DURING THE WAR OF 1812 FACTORIES USING IMPROVED MACHINERY AND MERINO WOOL BEGAN MAKING FINE BROADCLOTHS WHICH THEY SOLD UNDER THEIR BRAND NAMES.

"MEDALS OF THE HIGHEST CLASS" WERE AWARDED TO AMERICAN BRAND-IDENTIFIED WOOLLEN CLOTHS AT THE PARIS INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION IN 1889.

MANUFACTURERS OF BRAND-NAMED WOOLLEN SEEKING WIDER MARKETS STILL FIND NEW WAYS TO MAKE BETTER CLOTH.

CHAPTER XVI

Margaret was evidently glad to hear this. "Thank you, I'll tell him."

Mrs. Herlong, may I pick one of those purple flowers on the fence?"

"Why of course. But the stems are strong—wait a minute and I'll get a pair of scissors." When she brought the scissors Margaret was waiting. "We can cut a lot of them if you like," Elizabeth offered.

"There must be thousands of blossoms here on the fence."

"The yellow ones are the same sort of flower as the purple ones, aren't they?"

"Yes, and the deep orange ones too."

"The dark ones have yellow centers. That's pretty. What do you call them?"

"Lantana."

"Lantana," Margaret repeated. "I've seen a lot of them here, but I never knew the name. They bloom all the year round, don't they?" She gathered the bouquet into her hands.

"You must like flowers," she suggested, looking around, "you have so many of them."

"I do like them. We used to have some beautiful beds there on the other side of the pool, before we put in the Victory garden. You enjoy flowers too, don't you?"

"Oh yes," Margaret nodded vigorously. "Do you like to put them under a microscope and see how they're made?"

"I don't think I've ever done that. Where do you have a microscope?"

"No, at home. My father shows them to me. He knows all about flowers. We put lots of things under the microscope at home and we look at them. It's fun."

"Your father certainly knows a lot. But he was some sort of doctor in Germany, wasn't he?"

"Not exactly a doctor. He worked in the laboratory. But my real father was a doctor."

"Your real father? Isn't Mr. Kessler your father?"

"Oh no," said Margaret, her blue eyes serious across the lantana. "My real father died. And my mother too, and I was very sick. That was a long time ago when I was little. But I remember being very sick, and before I was well we went to the hospital, late one night, and we rode a long way in an automobile in the dark, and I started to cry. I don't cry now, I'm too big, but I was little then and I cried, and he— you know, my father, Mr. Kessler—he said he would give me something to put me to sleep so I wouldn't be so tired, and he did and I went to sleep, and when I woke up he told me I was his little girl now. That's how he got to be my father."

"I see," said Elizabeth. Not wanting to push Margaret into details of what might be a Nazi atrocity better forgotten, and which was none of her business anyway, Elizabeth went on, "I'm sorry your real parents died. But isn't it fortunate you could get another father right away? And such a fine father, too. You must love him very much, don't you?"

"Yes, sometimes I don't remember at all that he isn't my real father. I like him better than some girls like their fathers. He plays with me."

"You must have a lot of fun together."

Margaret nodded. She had begun to tell more details of their games when they caught sight of Kessler and Spratt walking down the driveway toward the back lawn. As she saw Margaret went to meet them.

Elizabeth watched Kessler's slow limp and the wise, kindly expression of his features, and thought what a battle such a man must have had to show no evidence of resentment toward life for what it had done to him. No wonder Margaret liked him better than some girls liked their fathers. She was a fortunate child to have such a guardian.

Margaret had run ahead of her. As Elizabeth met them she was talking to Kessler.

"We had the best time! I can swim all the way across the pool, the short way, not the long way. And look, these are named lantana and they grow on the fence."

"I should have warned you," Kessler said to Elizabeth, "that Margaret would demand a sample of anything she saw that was unfamiliar to her. She was born inquisitive or I've infected her with my own curiosity."

"I like children who ask questions," Spratt commented. "How are they going to learn anything if they don't?"

"Margaret's been telling me," said Elizabeth, "how you encourage her with a microscope."

He laughed, and then said soberly, "I'm glad she enjoys that. In these days—or for that matter any days—we can't tell what children are going to live through, but we can be pretty sure it won't all be pleasant. But nobody is utterly desolate if he's learned to appreciate the world around him."

The garden had grown chilly. Spratt gathered up Margaret and several others whom he had offered to take home, and Kessler said he would occupy himself with a book while Elizabeth changed for dinner. She went through the den, where Dick sat by a table agonizing over his lessons. Dick was evidently in the throes of struggle. His papers strewn on the floor and table, he sat holding his head between his fists, his hair wildly rumpled and his forehead wrinkled with anguish. Elizabeth paused at the door.

"What's the trouble, Dick?"

He groaned without looking up. "Mother, did you ever get through physics?"
